Keystone's Passport Division Introduces new Light Weight Break Away SURV

Goshen, Indiana, December 7, 2007. For Immediate Release

The Passport division of Keystone RV introduced the new Break Away Lite Weight SURV travel trailer at the recent RVIA Show in Louisville. The Passport Break Away combines utility, comfort and easy towability.

The Passport product line, first introduced in the fall of 2006, has proven to be Keystone RV's fastest growing new division based on retail sales. According to Ryan Juday, Passport product manager, the new Passport Break Away will add to this success. "The 25FQ floorplan we showed last week in Louisville hits the bull's eye 100%. It offers consumers' exactly what they are looking for in today's RV market. For example, this coach features an 8-foot by 10-foot rear cargo area with rubber diamond-plate patterned skid resistant flooring and D-ring tie downs and offers plenty of storage for your Harley, Gold Wing, or other take-along toys. Yet, it is designed to be towed by SUVs and half-ton pick up trucks."

Continues Juday, "Passport products are very affordable for the great majority of families, while loaded with features." Standard equipment on the Break Away 25FQ includes full galley and bath facilities, 19-inch LCD TV, outdoor cooking center, dual hide-a-way sofas, an electric overhead sit-n-sleep combination bed in the garage area, and sleeping for six. "You get all this in a laminated fiberglass, aluminum-framed travel trailer that can be towed with your properly equipped half-ton truck or SUV."
